

Summer Writing Plan 2017 For Incoming 4th Graders

All students will be choosing one of the two summer reading selections to read over the summer. After reading your book, each student will complete a writing assignment about the story. The assignments will be due on the first day of school and will be a portion of the Language Arts grade for the first trimester. The prewriting portion of the assignment will be done at home, the editing and final draft will take place in the classroom as the first writing lesson for the new school year. The writing assignment should be completed using the following Common Core State Standard. (CCSS)

• Fourth Grade Reading Selections:

(choose 1) The Indian in the Cupboard by Lynne Reid Banks or Charlotte's Web by E.B. White

CCSS:RL 4.3: Use specific details in fiction text to describe a character, setting or event in the story.

★ Directions: When finished with your summer reading, please complete Step 1 in preparation for the in class portion of the assignment. The rubric attached should be used as a guide during the writing process.

At home students will:

1. PREWRITING: 30 points for completion
